As I prepare this reflection, I am refreshed having just recently returned from the Living Waters Catholic Reflection Center in Maggie Valley where the priests of the diocese were on retreat this earlier this month. It is always nice to spend time with my brothers in the priesthood, especially since last year, our retreat was canceled due to the pandemic and each priest was encouraged to make a private retreat. I stayed at a lodge in Blowing Rock last year for 4 days for my retreat.

In my time as a seminarian and in my time as a priest, I have been enriched by the vocation stories of many priests. While there are differences in age, culture, family histories and even religious backgrounds, all priests share the experience of being called by God.

On our recent diocesan priest's retreat, I was reminded of the story of a faithful priest that I never knew who was instrumental in the construction of the parish in Maggie Valley and the retreat center. He died while I was a seminarian. I have, however, spoken with a number of priests who knew Father Michael William Murphy well. The Diocese of Charlotte is very grateful for his zeal and charity. It is an amazing story. Mr. Murphy arrived in North Carolina from Detroit in 1950. He immediately turned his attention to helping build parish churches in the Smoky Mountain area of the state. In the small town of Sylva, Murphy assisted in building St. Mary's Church in memory of his late parents. The church was dedicated in August of 1955. He also aided in constructing the Newman Center for Catholic students at Western Carolina University in Cullowhee. The lay missionary later bought 33 acres of land in Maggie Valley. He converted a two-story building for use as a chapel, where a priest from Waynesville would celebrate the Mass during the tourist season. He eventually purchased another track of land and built a 25-unit motel, naming it Falling Waters. As a layman, William Murphy received permission from Bishop Waters to build St. Margaret Church on his own land. The parish church was dedicated in 1969. Recognizing his faithfulness, Bishop Waters urged Mr. Murphy to discern becoming a priest. After prayerful discernment, Murphy studied at St. Meinrad Seminary in Indiana and in May 1972, he was ordained to the priesthood by Bishop Michael J. Begley of the new Diocese of Charlotte at the young age of 80. Eventually Fr. Murphy gave his land to the diocese and under Bishop Begley's guidance, his motel was renovated for use as the Living Waters Catholic Reflection Center. There are many retreats there every year, including our own diocesan priest's retreat. Fr. Murphy certainly left his mark on the Catholic Church in Western North Carolina! If you are interested in making a retreat at Living Waters, please give them a call or check the website:

catholicretreat.org It is a wonderful location!

I encourage our parishioners to continue to pray for vocations. Our parish has been the spiritual home of several religious vocations over the years and I am confident that other parishioners will say "yes" to a vocation to Holy Orders or to religious life. Please let me know if any of you would like more information on our diocesan seminarian program or would like to know more about my own spiritual journey to Holy Orders. I am sincerely thankful for all the support that I have received over the years. There are people who still encourage, nurture and support vocations. Occasionally, someone will say to me, "Father, thank you for being a priest." I find such statements to be very uplifting.

In the service of the Lord,

Fr. Mark

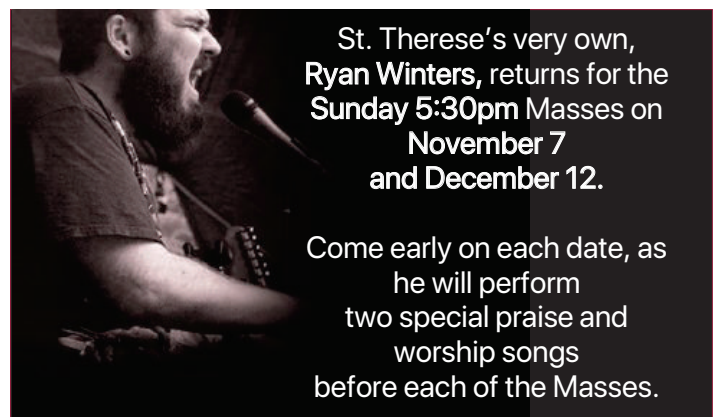

Fr. Murphy, ordained at the age of 80.

REFLEXIÓN DEL PADRE MARCOS:

Mientras preparo esta reflexión, me siento renovado por haber regresado del Centro de Reflexión Católica Aqua Viva en Maggie Valley, donde los sacerdotes de la diócesis estaban en retiro la semana pasada. Siempre es agradable pasar tiempo con mis hermanos en el sacerdocio, especialmente porque el año pasado, nuestro retiro fue cancelado debido a la pandemia y cada sacerdote hizo un retiro privado. Me alojé en un albergue en Blowing Rock el año pasado durante 4 días para mi retiro.

En mi tiempo como seminarista y como sacerdote, me he enriquecido con las historias vocacionales de muchos sacerdotes. Si bien existen diferencias de edad, cultura, historia familiar e incluso antecedentes religiosos, todos los sacerdotes comparten la experiencia de ser llamados por Dios.

En nuestro reciente retiro de sacerdotes diocesanos, recordé la historia de un sacerdote fiel que nunca conocí que fue fundamental en la construcción de la parroquia en Maggie Valley y el centro de retiro. Murió mientras yo era seminarista. Sin embargo, he hablado con varios sacerdotes que conocían bien al Padre Michael William Murphy. La Diócesis de Charlotte está muy agradecida por su celo y caridad. Es una historia increíble. El Sr. Murphy llegó a Carolina del Norte desde Detroit en 1950. Inmediatamente centró su atención en ayudar a construir iglesias parroquiales en el área de Smoky Mountain del estado. En la pequeña ciudad de Sylva, Murphy ayudó a construir la iglesia de Santa María en memoria de sus difuntos padres. También ayudó en la construcción del Centro para los estudiantes católicos en la Universidad de Western Carolina. El misionero laico luego compró 33 acres de tierra en Maggie Valley. Convirtió un edificio de dos pisos para usarlo como capilla, donde un sacerdote de Waynesville celebraría la misa durante la temporada turística. Finalmente compró otro pedazo de tierra y construyó un motel de 25 unidades, nombrándolo Aguas que Caen. Como laico, William Murphy recibió permiso del obispo para construir la iglesia Santa Margarita en su propia tierra. La iglesia parroquial se inauguró en 1969. Reconociendo su fidelidad, el obispo lo instó al Sr. Murphy a discernir cómo convertirse en sacerdote. Después de un discernimiento en oración, él estudió en el Seminario San Meinrad en Indiana y en mayo de 1972, fue ordenado sacerdote cuando tenía 80 años. Padre Murphy le dio su tierra a la diócesis y, bajo la dirección del obispo Begley, su motel fue renovado para su uso como Centro de Reflexión Católica Aguas Vivas. Hay muchos retiros allí cada año, incluido el retiro para nuestros sacerdotes. ¡Padre Murphy ciertamente dejó su huella en la Iglesia Católica en el oeste de Carolina del Norte! Si está interesado en hacer un retiro en Aguas Vivas, llámelos o visite el sitio web: catholicretreat.org ¡Es un lugar maravilloso!

Animo a nuestros feligreses a que sigan orando por las vocaciones. Nuestra parroquia ha sido el hogar espiritual de varias vocaciones religiosas a lo largo de los años y estoy seguro de que otros feligreses dirán "sí" a una vocación a las órdenes sagradas o a la vida religiosa. Por favor avísame si alguno de ustedes quisiera más información sobre nuestro programa de seminaristas diocesanos o quisiera saber más sobre mi propio viaje espiritual al Orden Sagrado. Estoy sinceramente agradecido por todo el apoyo que he recibido a lo largo de los años. Hay personas que aún animan, nutren y apoyan las vocaciones. De vez en cuando alguien me dice: "Padre, gracias por ser sacerdote". Encuentro esas declaraciones muy edificantes.

Suyo en paz,

Padre Marcos

THINK DIFFERENT: A TRIBUTE TO OUR SAINTS BY KELLI OLSZEWSKI

Originally written November 1, 2009

Saints are the pinnacles of human splendor. – Fr. Thomas DuBay

In the fall of 2007, I actually sat down and watched an entire Panthers' game (when their season was 7-9... a little better than this year's season). During one of the breaks, I saw the Apple Computer's commercial, "Think Different". While the commercial was new, their slogan, "Think Different" was not. However, it is not the visual aspect of the commercial that completely caught my attention, but the narration:

"Here's to the crazy ones. The misfits. The troublemakers. The round pegs in the square holes. The ones who see things differently. They're not fond of rules. And they have no respect for the status quo. You can quote them, disagree with them, glorify them or vilify them. About the only thing you can't do is ignore them. Because they change things. They push the human race forward. And while some see them as the crazy ones, We see genius. Because the people who are crazy enough to think they can change the world, Are the ones who do."

The original commercial which aired in 1997, showed Albert Einstein, Bob Dylan, Gandhi and Martin Luther King. The narrator's message was compelling – but it wasn't saying Napoleon Dynamite, Madonna or Michael Moore to me, it reminded me of those who really did "think different": our saints.

Our saints, "crazy enough to think they could change the world" and did. They pushed the human race forward through the beauty of Christian witness – all geniuses for doing so. For some, they were considered rebels and troublemakers and yes, even misfits. They were considered crazy. Even St. Francis of Assisi said so himself. The saints were mocked, beaten, tortured, ridiculed, persecuted, oppressed and many were martyred. Why? Because they would "think different". They followed Christ and believed in their Catholic faith. Read about any saint who was martyred, and they welcomed their death, because their love, their conviction for Christ was so profound.

I recently read the book, "Saints: A Closer Look" by Father Thomas DuBay. Fr. DuBay shared that the saints are the pinnacles of human splendor. In other words, they were not lukewarm about their Christianity. They had a can-do attitude and a desire to imitate a life of Christ.

Through their humanity, all saints shared a radical love of the Trinity, zeal to do good works, aspired to live a virtuous life, were committed to a contemplative prayer life and were devout and adherent to the teachings and doctrines of the Church; what they professed, they lived.

By grasping just a glimmer of the lives of the saints, may they continue to be our heroes and true role models; they are the brilliant beacons to light our spiritual fires and lead us to a spiritual revolution. Let us remember Jesus' famous Sermon on the Mount... the beatitudes... the summit of all living that was exemplified by our saints. So the next time you are ridiculed for "thinking different" about your Catholic faith, know that you are walking among the saints. Be crazy! Make a difference! As St. Catherine of Sienna said, "If you are what you should be, you will set the whole world on fire. Let the truth be your delight... proclaim it... but with certain congeniality."

*My sweet little saints:

Arc and St. Maximilian Kolbe, parade at our former parish.*

Ignatian Corner

Christian Life Community

Christian Life Community (CLC) is an international association of lay Christians who have adopted an Ignatian model of the spiritual life. The 'Community' of over 25,000 members is present in over sixty countries around the world. CLC draws its inspiration from the teachings of St. Ignatius Loyola.

The experience of making the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius is foundational to the member of CLC, not simply as a retreat but as a way of life. Members are encouraged to live a lifestyle that is gospel based and simple: To Serve the Poor and those most in need and to work to change unjust structures in society.

CLC members seek to bring Gospel values into all aspects of life in today's world. We envision ourselves as missioned, discerning communities. "The field of CLC mission knows no limits; it extends both to the church and the world, in order to bring the Gospel of salvation to all people by opening hearts to conversion and struggling to change oppressive structures." (clc-usa.org)

Our CLC groups at Saint Therese are small, no more than twelve members. We meet regularly in order to develop friendship and a community spirit among ourselves by praying, sharing some of our life experiences together, helping and supporting each other in our Christian faith and in our daily lives and engaging in outreach activities. Meetings are held, usually in our homes, at intervals decided by the group — usually biweekly, and lasting one and a half or two hours.

"And 'to love him with all your heart, with all your understanding, with all your strength, and to love your neighbor as yourself' is worth more than all the burnt offerings and sacrifices." (Mark 12:33)

Of all the gifts that God gives us, the one He wants the most is our heart.

He wants us to share out of our love for Him, not out of obligation.

Using our talent in parish ministry and contributing money to support our parish mission is important, but it's more important to spend time in prayer with God daily and discern how He is calling us to be generous with all of our gifts.

Not just the visible ones, but the invisible ones like love, mercy and forgiveness.

Eagle Scout Project Supporting veterans undergoing cancer treatment.

My name is Connor Crase and I am a Boy Scout from Troop 377 in Mooresville, NC. I am currently working on my Eagle Scout Project: a project to support our Veterans who are going through chemotherapy at the VA Medical Center in nearby Salisbury, NC. The project entails creating bags filled with supplies (e.g. warm hats, socks, gloves, lotion, lip balm, hard candy, etc.) to help give these Veterans some comfort during their battles with cancer and to alleviate some side effects of chemotherapy, especially during their infusion treatments.

My fundraising goal is $1,800 which will be used to prepare 75 of these care bags.

Cancer is a serious illness that can impact anyone. Please consider donating to support our Veterans as they fight their battle with cancer. I will be collecting donations after all Masses on Saturday evening, November 6 and Sunday, November 7 or visit:

Please note: This is not a parish project. Your donations are not tax deductible and the preferred method for financial donations would either be cash or the GoFundMe account listed above.
