What Does the Catholic Church Teach About....?

Question:
What are the languages used in the Mass?

My Answer:
Since the renewal of the Church’s liturgy at Vatican II, the Mass of the Roman Rite is most often prayed in the language of the local people, called the vernacular language. In the United States, this is in English. In some places, the whole mass is prayed in Latin, as it was the custom before Vatican II since the time of the Church Fathers, when Latin was, in fact, the vernacular language. The Latin Mass may be celebrated in the older form of the traditional Tridentine Mass (from the Council of Trent) or in the renewed typical edition of the Novus Ordo (from the time of Vatican II and Paul VI) form of the Mass. And one prayer of the Mass is often prayed in Greek, which was the common language used in the time Christ. This is the Kyrie Eleison, or “Lord have mercy”. The Eastern Churches, which are under the Pope and include the Antiochian, Byzantine, and Alexandrian Rites, typically use their won languages and prayers, even when celebrating Mass in western countries like the United States.
