Gospel Meditation

Let God be who God is. This is often one of the hardest things to do. Rather than allowing the mystery of being created in the image and likeness of God unfold and take root in our lives, we change the dynamic. We want to be the creators who want to make God into the image and likeness we need God to be. We have a hard-enough time letting the people in our lives be who they are. We struggle even more so with God. It is almost as if we want God to be our imaginary friend who is not only with us whenever we need but becomes the Being we need God to be. Who is it that we want God to be today? A protector, disciplinarian, champion for justice, healer, advocate for our cause, grantor of prayers, guardian of my life, or the avenger? Our prayers tell an interesting story. When you pray, what does God look like?

Recently, a young woman who was feeling invisible, overlooked, ignored and misunderstood by her husband struggled to make her feelings known and get his attention. Finally, she screamed, "Listen to me!" Thus, birth was given to a renewed and healthier relationship. We spend so much time storming heaven with our agenda and trying to make God into a "god" of our desires that we do not hear God saying, "Listen to me!" God is desperately trying to get our attention. God is saying, I am here among you as not one but three, Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Many people seldom notice God's presence because they are so caught up with other spiritual cares and concerns. And, when the "god" they fashion and create doesn't produce as they desire, they shake the dust from their feet and move on. "I tried," they exclaim, "but God didn't listen."

Healthy relationships aren't built on making someone be who we need them to be. Healthy relationships are built on encounters of persons and the development of an appreciation of someone solely for who they are. Deeper relationships can even be found with two people marveling at each other and almost experiencing a childlike joy and giddiness when they see the other coming. Do you ever have these feelings about God? Believe it or not, God does for you! There is a joyful laughter that gives rise to and connects all three members of the Holy Trinity. It is this laughter, flowing from the very depths of the Godhead that not only keeps the Trinity in joyful unity but spills over into the creation of all beings and things. It is an expression of Divine Delight! Have you ever taken time away from your agenda to experience the Divine Joyfulness of God?

We can reach a connection of Presence wherein even the smallest of creatures suddenly radiate the fullness of God: the wonderful creation of their being, the innocence and playfulness of their movements, and the sustaining life breath that flows through their veins. The same God who created the heavens and the earth is the same God who wants you to call him "Dad" and the same God who preserves your life and has all things in His care.

DISPENSATION TO BE LIFTED

Together, the Bishops of Ohio have decided that the general obligation to attend Mass on Sundays and Holy Days (including the Saturday/Vigil Mass) is to be reinstated. This will take effect in each of the Dioceses of Ohio the weekend of June 5-6, 2021. As has always been the case, those who have a serious reason are exempt from attending Mass on Sundays and Holy Days of Obligation. This includes those who are ill, have significant health risk factors or care for someone who is immuno-compromised or ill, as well as those who have significant fear or anxiety of contracting the coronavirus in a large group of persons. Nevertheless, these persons should observe the Lord's Day and are encouraged to spend time in prayer on Sunday, meditating on the Lord's passion, death and resurrection; an appropriate way to do this is through viewing a broadcast of the Sunday Mass. Masses that are broadcast through various media are not intended as a substitute nor do they fulfill the obligation for the persons who are able to gather for a Sunday celebration and other Holy Days of Obligation.

SACRISTANS NEEDED

Have you ever considered helping out here at Church and wondered how? We would really like to expand our team of Sacristans at our weekend Masses. We are so grateful for those who have served in this role and would love to expand the group. It only takes about 15 minutes before Mass to set up and about 5 minutes after Mass to clean up.

Our present team is one person at each Mass, but we would love to add others so that we could alternate weeks, etc. Great training is provided! (It's not difficult at all!) Invite a friend to join you, or even your family. If interested, please contact Sr. Kathleen at kflannery@churchofthegesu.org.

FAREWELL TO FR. KISER

Thank you to everyone who came out last Sunday to bid Fr. Kiser farewell! We offer him our sincere gratitude for his time as Pastor of Gesu and the many blessings he brought to our parish. We wish him all the best in his journey ahead!

IGNATIAN SPIRITUALITY FOR TODAY

The Society of Jesus worldwide and the entire Ignatian family begins a very special year on May 20 to "celebrate St. Ignatius' spiritual journey from the 500th anniversary of his conversion in 1521 to his canonization in 1622." The following article written by a Jesuit from Cameroon, Africa, "helps explain conversion as a process of recovering from blindness to better sight." Visit: <https://bit.ly/3aCUz5p>.

CATHOLIC SOCIAL TEACHING: LIVING OUT OUR FAITH

Featured Article

The recent Derek Chauvin conviction for the killing of George Floyd inspired feelings of relief and vindication in many, including the author of this month's feature article, Fr. Bryan Massingale. The verdict, nonetheless, was not viewed as a cause for celebration. It was rather seen as a wake-up call not only for our nation and its policing philosophy and social values, but for our Catholic Church in terms of "its complicity in the country's racism."

The article continues, "This jury verdict is a summons to the Catholic community to embrace the teaching of Pope Francis, who in discussing George Floyd's killing declared, 'We cannot tolerate or turn a blind eye to racism and exclusion in any form and yet claim to defend the sacredness of human life.' The challenge for American Catholics is to profess a commitment to anti-racism as an essential dimension of being pro-life."

IGNATIAN THREADS

In today's Gospel, Jesus gives his disciples a great commission: "Go...make disciples of all nations... teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you." Ignatius and his early fellow Jesuits certainly show us how to put this into action. The disciples, as well as the first Jesuits, hopefully found reassurance in Jesus telling them, "I am with you always." Reflect on what this can mean for us: When do we need to feel that God is with us? Do we share the truths of our faith? How can we make Christ's healing and merciful love more present? Reflect on the significance of Jesus speaking of the "Father, Son and Holy Spirit." How often we utter this threefold formula when we make the sign of the cross. May our everyday living reflect the richness of The Most Holy Trinity: God, the Father, who loves us unconditionally; Jesus, the Son, who gives his life for us; and, the Holy Spirit who remains God's active presence in our lives.

SHARING THE GOSPEL

As the disciples ate with friends, traveled, worked, shopped, and made new friends, they were to have one goal in mind – help more people follow Jesus. Baptize them in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Teach them to love God and love each other. Teach them to have mercy and forgive each other. Teach them to be humble. Teach them to pray. Teach them to share. And teach them to tell the people they met how to follow Jesus, too.

A YEAR OF THE CORPORAL WORKS OF MERY

By Cathy Pressimone

What a year. We have been together, apart, living a year that will be referenced throughout history. During this year, we rediscovered the things in life that matter the most. We lived with deprivation - socially, physically and emotionally. We learned that we could do without. We learned that, many times, others were faring worse than us - a lot worse. And we learned the value of our faith on a deeper level.

This year of COVID-19 was the year that Gesu chose to focus on the Corporal Works of Mercy. After reading Kerry Weber's book, Mercy in the City, programs were put into place that would take the corporal works into the community - in spite of the COVID restrictions. Not only did the established Outreach Committees continue their missions, but the parish also stepped up its efforts to live the Corporal Works of Mercy.

In October, food banks received copious amounts of food and cash to help the hungry whose ranks had swollen due to job losses and food shortages. In November, as the deaths from the virus began to increase exponentially here in Ohio and across the world, we looked at programs that buried the indigent and homeless as we continued to pray for the dying and deceased - victims of the pandemic. Gesu's generosity continued and the Christmas Angel Tree Project provided holiday cheer to over 350 people. As the New Year arrived, Gesu continued to give to the needy - this time in hundreds of pairs of socks and underwear that were donated to homeless shelters. In February, the Rice Bowl Project illustrated the parish's willingness to give alms to the poor, contributing over $1,200. In March, food, money and assistance were offered to help support the Veteran's Affairs medical mission and there was an increased effort in prayers for the sick and imprisoned as the opportunities to visit were restricted. In April, a Care for Our Common Home Conversation was held to look for ways that Gesu can focus some of its work around the new corporal work "Care of Creation." Throughout May, awareness of the need to protect the vital resource of water and the continued hunger in our community was the main focus.

I am new to this parish; my family moved to Ohio and into Gesu parish at the end of last May, in the middle of the worst pandemic in modern history. It was a challenging time for relocation, but we found ourselves at home in a parish that is caring, compassionate and willing to be Christ to others. Even when life was onerous and at times heartbreaking, the family of Gesu continuously fulfilled Jesus' command to care for His littlest ones.

What does Gesu Parish do?

On May 22, Gesu volunteers worked at Shaker Lakes Nature Center to restore the natural habitat. Their Staff were very impressed with how hard our volunteers worked. Thank you everyone!

LEADERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES AT GESU

PARISH COUNCIL IS LOOKING FOR NEW MEMBERS

Would you like to help steer a vibrant parish as it plans for the future? Do you like to dream of what could be and figure out how to make it happen? If this describes you, consider a role on Gesu's Parish Council. We need people willing to share their ideas about building and growing our parish community to better meet the needs of all parishioners. At this time, we are looking to add two members-at-large as some members are completing their terms. As a member-at-large, you serve a two-year term, just five meetings a year, starting this fall. For more information or to indicate your interest, send your name and contact information to mcreger@churchofthegesu.org.

LEADERSHIP COMMISSIONS

This is the time of year when our Commissions begin to make plans for the next year. Our Commissions structure is composed of five commissions: Administration, Community Life, Faith Formation, Outreach and Worship.

The Commissions meet monthly and work together to support and design programming and activities for Gesu Parish. If you are interested in serving on any of these Commissions, please contact Sister Kathleen at kflannery@churchofthegesu.org. She will direct your interest to the respective commission and someone will contact you about what this entails. It's a great way to get involved and to contribute to the ongoing growth of our community!

PARKING LOT REPAIRS

Through the generosity of several families' contributions to the Fund for Gesu, our capital improvement fund, and the Gesu Endowment Fund, we will be undertaking an extensive parking lot repair project this summer. All areas of the church and school parking lots that have not been replaced in the last few years will be completed. This includes areas behind the Church, in front of the Family Center and the entire north section of the parking lot. This project will begin on June 7 and will take about eight weeks, weather permitting. Please be aware that during construction some entrances/exits may be closed and there may be a change in traffic patterns and/or parking availability. Thank you for your flexibility and patience during this time.
